Spooky Boo Wow parade is Oct. 25

The annual Spooky Boo Wow parade will be held at Flat Run Veterans' Park this year. Registration for the Saturday, Oct. 25, parade will begin at 11 a.m. with the parade starting at noon. Registration is $5 per dog with proceeds to benefit the Humane Society of Harrison County's spay/neuter program for shelter and community pets.

There are three categories for judging: Most Spooktacular Doggie Costume, Best Doggie Owner Costume and Most Creative Costume. There will also be a Best of Show honor.

Registration will take place under the Farmers' Market shelter. The parade will be behind the shelter.

Ag department has rain barrels

The Harrison County High School Agriculture Education Department is taking orders for rain barrels. The students in the agriculture construction class have created a set of rain barrels to auction off to the community and/or for local businesses.

Due to the overwhelming feedback from the community, the students have decided to take up an order for rain barrels as a fundraiser.

Plain barrels are $50 and custom painted barrels are $75 (depending on the extent of the design).

Place an order by sending an email to savannah.robins@harrison.kyschools.us.

The first round of orders will be due by Friday, Oct. 24.

Love triangle tarnished by shooting

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

A Harrison woman was arrested for shooting one of her boyfriends in the front yard of another boyfriend while they had a fist fight over her on Friday night.

Tonya Applegate, 32, of 1707 Pedro Pike was arrested for shooting Antonio Gonzalez, 46, of 1745 Apple Lane, in the back with a shotgun while Gonzalez was in the midst of a fist fight with John Ecklar, 46, with whom Applegate was living.

According to a report from Harrison County Deputy Sheriff Tuan Kreer, Gonzalez had been sending threatening text and voice messages to Ecklar and Applegate earlier in the evening.

Ecklar and Applegate presented those messages to the deputy to validate their claim.

Applegate and Ecklar have apparently been living together at his residence on Pedro Pike for some time. However, Applegate admitted to Kreer that she had been seeing Gonzalez "on the side."

She claimed that Gonzalez had become jealous over her relationship with Ecklar and threatened to come to Pedro Pike and physically harm him. In her statement to authorities, she said she did not take the threats seriously until the moment when this lover's triangle became violent.

At 10:08 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 10, Harrison County Dispatch advised the sheriff's office that Gonzalez was being taken to Harrison Memorial Hospital (HMH) with a gunshot wound. Thomas Lemons, 46, who shares the same street address with Gonzalez, was providing the transportation to the hospital's emergency room.

Gonzalez suffered a shotgun wound in the back. After arriving at HMH, he was subsequently transported to the University of Kentucky Medical Center for treatment.

After taking a statement on the incident from Lemons, Kreer and Chief Deputy Paul Olin obtained a search warrant for Ecklar's residence. Joined by Harrison County Sheriff Shain Stephens and Deputy Nathan Olin, they arrived at the home on Pedro Pike where the incident was said to have occurred.

Murder/suicide may have been reason for fire, fatal shootings, says KSP detective

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

Detectives with the Kentucky State Police stated that evidence points to the deaths of a Harrison County couple last week as being a murder-suicide.

Kentucky State Police detectives Anthony Gatson and Scott Lengle were called in to investigate after two bodies were discovered in a house fire at 2464 Grays Run Pike on Monday morning, Oct. 6.

The two bodies were positively identified as James Thompson, 33, and Katherine Thompson, 37, the next day.

An autopsy conducted by the medical examiner's office in Frankfort determined that the couple died as a result of gunshot wounds to the head and not as a result of the house fire.

Three children belonging to the couple were at school the morning the incident occurred, according to reports.

According to Lengle, though the case is still under investigation, it is being treated as a murder/suicide with Katherine Thompson as the victim.

Evidence indicates that James may have killed his wife intentionally, then turned the weapon upon himself, Lengle stated. It is believed that the home fire was set intentionally, but there has been no official word from the arson investigator on the case, he added.

"At this stage, there is no reason to believe that any other person is involved in the incident," Lengle said.

The murder/suicide case remains under investigation by Det. Gatson.

The arson case is being investigated by Post 12 arson investigator, Rick Godsey.

City police officer dismissed amid allegations of sexting with student

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

A Cynthiana police officer and Explorer program leader has been fired following an internal investigation.

According to documents obtained through an open records request, Joe Warden was terminated Tuesday, Sept. 23, for allegedly sexting with a Harrison County student.

Superintendent Andy Dotson notified Warden by letter on Sept. 8 that he was no longer permitted on any school property. Failure to comply would result in charges being brought against Warden.

Safety commissioner Gary

Brunker notified Warden that he was being suspended in a hand-delivered letter dated Sept. 9.

Brunker's letter stated that Warden was suspended without pay and that official action would occur within 20 days.

The commissioner stated that an internal investigation and a Kentucky State Police investigation "substantiated that on or about July 30, 2014, and Aug. 22, 2014, and on other occasions ... [Warden] engaged in conduct which violates the Personnel Policies and Procedures of the City of Cynthiana as well as the Rules and Regulations of the Cynthiana Police Department by sending inappropriate and sexually explicit text messages to a minor female. Salt supply expected to be scarce this winter, says commissioner

The first snow of the season may still be weeks away, but local officials are already concerned that there will not be enough salt to last the winter.

Cynthiana City Commissioner Roger Slade told commissioners Tuesday that last winter's harsh weather had created a scarcity of salt used to treat snow- and ice-covered streets.

"It could get interesting if we have a winter like we did last year," Slade said.

Morton's supplies Cynthiana with salt. They have already advised the city that its salt delivery will be less than half what it was last year at twice the cost.

The city used 235 tons last year. Morton's says it will deliver a maximum of 100 tons this year at $139.36 per ton, Slade said.

He also noted that the state Transportation Department is also having difficulty getting a commitment.

"We have no delivery date," Slade said, adding that the city has a facility to store the salt if it could be delivered now.

The mayor was authorized to sign a contract with Morton's.

In other business, the commission:

- Received as award from the Kentucky Water Works Association (KWWA) for the city's work to create a better distribution center.
- Ron McMains of KWWA made the presentation to Gary Royalty, director of public works/utilities.
- In making the presentation, McMains admitted that a few years ago he would have been reluctant to drink Cynthiana's water. However, he said the improvements to water treatment that have been made in the last five years coupled with plans for even more improvements have made Cynthiana's water a higher quality.

- Recognized National Business and Profession Women's Week as Oct. 20-24. Mayor Steve Moses read a proclamation declaring the city's endorsement of B&PW Week.
- Accepted an $89,000 bid for a new elevator to be installed at the water treatment plant. The city received three bids. D-C Elevator Inc. was the lowest bidder. Royalty made the recommendation that the city accept D-C Elevator's bid.
- Authorized city attorney John Lair to dismiss a lawsuit the city filed in July to gain an easement on Bridge Street.

Lair advised that the easement has been granted.

- Heard Lair report that a lawsuit against the property owner of 116 Webster Ave. was still pending.
- He said mortgage holders were more interested in seeing the building sold than demolished.
- Accepted the resignations of Brenda Hamilton and Stacey Ashbrook, E-911 telecommunicators.
- Commissioner Gary Brunker said the resignations were the result of an on-going issue in the center.

Commissioner Billy Grayson said he was in the dispatch center recently when an emergency was called in.

"I was so impressed," Grayson said. "They did exactly what they were supposed to do."

Brunker thanked Grayson for his praise and noted that Crickett Woods, telecommunicator, received a commendation from a woman who claims it was Woods' actions that saved her life.

- Heard Brunker announce that the city

Four cases head to court for delinquent occupational tax bills

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

Out of 19 criminal complaints against local business owners for non-payment of Harrison County occupational taxes, four are scheduled to go to trial soon, according to attorney Ed Culbertson in a report to the fiscal court at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Over $47,000 have been recovered so far as a result of the enforcement of unpaid county occupational taxes, Culbertson said.

"The majority of people comply with the law, but there are groups of individuals who refuse

The remaining seven are unresolved.

"Some are negotiating payment terms for what they owe. But we have trial dates set for four others," Culbertson said.

If the situation goes to court, the penalty can include a one-year jail sentence, a mandate to pay the taxes and also incur additional fines on top of what they already owe, he explained.

Once these last few cases have been resolved, Culbertson announced that a second round of summonses will be issued to others delinquent in their occupational tax payments.

Many of these people are local and have multiple years of non-payment to resolve, he said.

"If people will work with us, we will work with them," Culbertson said.

Culbertson also wished to acknowledge the valuable assistance of the administrative staff in researching delinquent tax cases. He gave special thanks to Melody McClure, Judy Smith and tax administrator Jennifer Renaker for the outstanding work they have done.

"They have made my part of this job much easier," Culbertson said.

Before the fiscal court's agenda got officially underway, state Rep. Tom McKee made a special presentation.

He presented a check to the court for $335,000 out of Gov. Steve Beshear's discretionary fund to cover road improvements along Oddville-Sunrise Road.

Accepting the check were magistrates Brad Marshall, Bradley Copes and Jeff Brunker, whose districts directly benefited from the added funding.

In other business, the county:

- Gave permission to Barnett by a 6-1 vote to negotiate the purchase of the old Fifth/Third bank parking lot from the owner.
- Magistrate Frank Henson was the only dissenting vote. Magistrate Missy Lutz was unable to attend the fiscal court meeting
- Because Harrison County Attorney

Bradley Vaughn leases parking lot spaces from the owner, he and his partner, Culbertson, recused themselves from closed session discussions regarding the lot's purchase. In fact, Vaughn was absent from the meeting entirely.

- Approved the bids for the repair of bridges at Salem Pike, Brushy Fork Road and Whalen Lane. Ron's Concrete was awarded the bid for the frames and E&H Bridges was awarded the bids for the decking.
- Their bids were the only ones received for the work.
- Approved Harrison County's participation in the Safety Circuit Rider Program sponsored by the Kentucky

According to the report, Ecklar and Applegate refused to answer the door and ignored sirens, lights and a P.A. command for the couple to exit the home. Law enforcement then forced their way into the home, took the couple into custody and informed them of their rights.

Ecklar claimed not have heard the sirens or P.A. announcement because the couple had a fan running in the bedroom, the report said.

Each gave a statement regarding details of the incident. Some elements contradicted each other.

Statements from Lemons, Ecklar, his twin brother James Ecklar and Applegate, all witnesses to the event, confirmed that there was a fist fight and that Applegate fired the shotgun when Gonzalez was wounded.

There is a dispute over who fired a warning shot from the front porch before the fight ensued. Applegate said that John Ecklar fired the warning shot.

Ecklar also claimed to have fired a warning shot, but changed his story in a later interview in which he and his brother, James, both said that Applegate was the only person handling a firearm during the entire event.

Applegate claimed that the shotgun went off accidentally when she grabbed it. She also claimed to know nothing about shotguns, the report said.

When Kreer asked how a second cartridge got loaded into the shotgun, Applegate informed him that the shotgun was designed to hold two cartridges, according to the report.

James Ecklar was a witness at the scene and assisted Lemons with placing the wounded Gonzalez into Lemons' car. He told deputies that he was present at the request of his brother, John, who feared that there might be trouble with Gonzalez later that night.

With the search warrant, deputies seized the shotgun, a box of cartridges and Ecklar's blood-stained shirt that evening. The next day, Det. Paul Olin recovered a spent shotgun shell from the bushes near the residence that matched those in the box of cartridges, the report said.

Applegate was arrested and charged with one count of first degree wanton endangerment, second degree assault and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

A charge of first degree promoting contraband was added to the list of charges against Applegate when authorities discovered that she was trying to smuggle narcotics into the Bourbon County Detention Center.

A search found that she had narcotics hidden on her, Kreer reported.

She is being held at the detention center with a $30,000 bond.

Due to conflicting accounts of events, the case is still under investigation, Kreer commented. There may be more charges and arrests in connection with the incident, he said.

Nursing home client champion retiring after 25 years

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

After having advocated for the interests and needs of nursing care residents in Harrison County for 25 years, Betty Patrick has officially retired.

Her last day as ombudsman was a little over two weeks ago. On that day, the residents, staff and administration of Parkside Manor held a reception in Patrick's honor at the cafeteria.

Patrick said she was inspired to serve as an ombudsman with the Nursing Home Ombudsman Agency of the Bluegrass (NHOA) because a close friend had done the work for years.

"She retired and I applied for the position, thinking it would be something to do for a few years," Patrick said. Never in her life did she expect to commit 25 years of her life to the job, she said.

An ombudsman performs a unique service in long term care facilities. They are independent advocates for resident rights and needs to facility administrations.

Residents are sometimes reluctant to speak up for themselves in a care facility, Patrick said. But the facility is their home and an Ombudsman can help communicate the resident's requests for certain things to enrich their personal lives, she said.

Patrick was assigned to serve as ombudsman for three Harrison County nursing care facilities: Grandhaven Nursing Home, Shady Lawn Personal Care Home and Parkside Manor Personal Care Home.

Kelli Bailey, CEO and administrator for Shady Lawn and Parkside, said Patrick often went beyond the normal duties of a resident ombudsman.

"If a resident enjoyed knitting or wanted to do some kind of craft work, Betty would show up with materials that she bought with her own money," Bailey said.

She also sewed buttons on clothes, gave small gifts and just gave of herself to the residents.

"Residents looked upon Patrick as a close friend as well as someone who looked out for their needs," Bailey added.

This assessment of Patrick's value and commitment to serve residents was also shared by the administrative leadership at NHOA.

Betty Patrick is greeted with well wishes by residents of Parkside Manor on her last day as ombudsman.

Sherry Culp, executive director of NHOA, said that there are only a few homes [an estimated 60 percent] don't have families in the local area. Some have no family at all. As an ombudsman, Patrick gave many of these people a connection outside of the facility, someone who expressed a lot of caring about their well-being," Culp said.

Patrick's contributions also extended to work with facility staff as well. She helped with continuing education and in-service presentations to recognize signs of abuse and remind staff of residents' rights.

"Residents have an extra bill of rights pertinent to their lives at a care facility," explained Crystal Bader, NHOA assistant director. "Many times we're advocates for residents getting leave time to visit family without fear of losing their space in a care facility."

Or sometimes a resident just wants to get outside and go fishing, she added.

"It's been very gratifying work for me and something I've thoroughly enjoyed. I've made a lot of friends among the residents through this service," said Patrick.

At a critical stage in her life, becoming an ombudsman gave her life new purpose, she said.

"I've never encountered bad problems at the facilities where I worked. We have good homes here and the majority of staff takes good care of the residents. Those that don't are shown the door," Patrick said.

Two weeks into her official retirement, she has enjoyed the rest.

"I plan to spend more time visiting family and traveling. It is a good time to hand over the job," Patrick said.

Taking over for Patrick is Michelle Barnett, Bader said.

However the NHOA is always looking for volunteers to help deliver personal service to nursing care residents in the local community.

"The job is not hard. We just arrange for regular weekly visits to one or two residents. The visit itself means a lot to these people," Bader said.

Those interested in volunteering can contact NHOA at 859-277-9215.

occurred both while you were on duty and off duty."

Brunker further explained that the violations of the city's personnel policies are described to include immoral or improper conduct and activities, either on duty or off duty, that discredit the individual or organization.

Likewise, the city's rules and regulations require all officers to refrain from any act or behavior which violates public morals or the common sense of the community and requires all officers to behave in a manner that does not bring discredit to the agency or the officer.

Warden was advised of his right to request a hearing with the city commission and that he needed to do so before

Sept. 16.

No hearing was requested and Warden was terminated at the Sept. 23 city commission meeting following a brief closed session for discussion of a personnel matter.

He was also advised that he was banned from city property other than to turn over city-owned property and collect his pay check.

The Kentucky State Police is continuing its investigation. No charges had been filed as of press time.

Warden was hired as a police officer recruit in 2008. He began training in November 2008.

Warden was suspended without pay for 16 days in March 2010 after he collided with another vehicle when he failed to stop at an intersection while responding to an emergency call.

School officials give nod to increased security measures at all public schools

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer
In a special called meeting Thursday night, The Harrison County School Board approved bids for the installation of security upgrades in all Harrison County Schools. The upgrades include bullet proof glass, sealed storefront enclosures and more security cameras, particularly around access doors and hallways.
The bid for construction packages, door hardware and camera installation went to Schiller Hardware for a total of $81,379. The storefront and transaction windows will be provided by Consolidated Glazing Contractors for $29,480.
The new upgrades will be designed to control access to school hallways and classrooms from random visitors throughout the day. The front offices will be sealed off with a front panel that will allow for delivery of packages and mail, commented Harrison County Superintendent Andy Dotson.
Visitors will remain in a lobby sealed off from the central office in a design similar to that of the circuit court office in the Harrison County Justice Center.
Though approved by the board, the bids still must meet approval of the Kentucky Department of Education before work can commence, Dotson said.
In other business, the school board:
•Approved a contract with Robert Ehmet

Hayes & Associates to provide architectural services for the 2015 District Facility plan. The cost is not to exceed $10,000.
• Approved the provision of Geo Technical and Topographical survey for a storage building serving the Harrison Area Technology Center (ATC). Geo Technical Services will be provided by S&ME for $4,500. Darnell Engineering will provide the topographic survey for $1,570.
The storage building is part of the upgrade of the welding department at the ATC that is being financed by the school in partnership with the Cynthiana-Harrison County Economic Development Authority and the Licking Valley Campus of Maysville Community and Technical College.
• Approved the sale of an easement on school property for East Kentucky Power for $9,000.

Walking Dead creator helps Rohs with digital projection

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

Thanks to a generous donation from a former Harrison County resident, first run movies are returning to the Rohs Opera House. The first movie could possibly be screened by the first week of November, the owners claim.

Former Cynthiana resident Robert Kirkman and his wife, Sonia, have made a personal loan of over $120,000 to the Rohs Opera House for the purchase of state-of-the-art digital projection equipment.

The Kirkmans declined to comment on the donation. However, according to opera house co-owner Roger Slade, the couple are making the donation because “they want young people in Cynthiana to enjoy watching movies at the Rohs like they did growing up.”

Kirkman, who currently resides in Los Angeles, is one of the creators of “The Walking Dead,” which has become a hit franchise in the entertainment industry.

News of the loan came unexpectedly to owners Slade, James Smith and Phillip Nickerson while they were preparing to greet visitors during the 2014 Cynthiana Rod Run in August.

According to Slade,

MOVIES ARE RETURNING TO ROHS OPERA HOUSE — Phillip Nickerson, James Smith and Roger Slade, co-owners of Rohs Opera House, recently announced receipt of a generous gift to bring digital projection to the Rohs Opera House.

John Hicks, Kirkman’s father-in-law, contacted all three of them the night before and requested a brief meeting.

“We had no idea what he wanted. He asked what our plans were for installing digital projection equipment at the theater. We told him it was beyond our means and then he hit us with this unexpected news,”

Smith commented.

Before that moment, the opera house owners had no plans to bring movies back to the theater. The cost to upgrade the opera house with digital projection equipment, estimated at well over $100,000, was beyond their financial means.

The last time the Rohs Opera House showed a first run movie was “Man of Steel” in June 2013, Nickerson said. Afterward, the owners set about the task of keeping the theater open by making it a venue for live productions - concerts, plays, special events, building rental and promotion of the Rohs’ fame as a site for ghost hunters.

In a subsequent meeting with the Kirkmans, the owners demonstrated what they had done to keep the theater open and upgrade the facility. They were treated to a Ghost Tour afterward, Nickerson said.

An agreement was struck that very day, Smith added.

In exchange for putting up the money for the equipment and its installation, the donors will own the equipment for five years. After that period, the Rohs owners will buy the equipment.

In addition to the projector, which is estimated at around $60,000, the Rohs will also install a brand new silver screen designed for both 2D and 3D movies and a new full-theater sound system.

“Combined with the natural acoustics and architecture of a classic movie house, the Rohs will be every bit as state-of-the-art as any multiplex in Lexington or Cincinnati,” Slade said.

Though it will be great to bring first-run movies back to the Rohs Opera House, the owners said that they plan to maintain the building as a venue for live theatrical productions from the Rohs Theater Company and for other special events such as the Ghost Hunts and the upcoming Impossible Magic show.

“A big advantage we have is the big stage behind the Rohs’ movie screen. It’s not just a wall. We intend to make use of that space for more than just movies,” Smith said.

The new movie screen is retractable, so it is possible for the Rohs to feature a live event in the afternoon, show a movie in the early evening and have a live show later on, Nickerson said.

The three are already discussing such other possibilities as special showings of classic movies, movie festivals or perhaps even sponsoring a video game tournament.

“We’ll have the capability of projecting gaming systems on that screen,” Slade said. “The digital technology is so versatile, it opens up all manner of possibilities for a range of art and event productions at the Rohs,” he continued.

An announcement of the Rohs’ first digital movie will come soon after the digital equipment is installed, Nickerson said.

Woman’s Club of Harrison Co. meets for October luncheon

The Woman’s Club of Harrison County met on Friday, Oct. 10, at Hospice of the Bluegrass. Cheryl Case presided over the event.

Inez Burgin led everyone in the Pledge of Allegiance and offered the blessing of the meal. The luncheon was prepared by Layne Tussey.

Burgin presented spiritual values. She read a poem titled “Perhaps,” by Vera Brittain. She also read “The Peace Prayer of St. Francis.” This prayer first appeared around 1912 and the message embodies the spirit of St. Francis of Assisi’s simplicity and poverty.

Lottie Barlow introduced the musical guest for the luncheon, Megan Crouse Reed. Reed sang several spiritual selections including “Just a Closer Walk With Thee,” “What a Friend We Have In Jesus,” “Well Water” and “I Want to Be Like Mary.”

Reed is the pastor at the Oddville United Methodist Church.

Case introduced guest speaker Louise Jones from the Kentucky History Center in Frankfort. The mission of the History Center is to engage the public through Kentucky history in order to confront the challenges of the future.

Jones told the group that the love and study of history promotes critical thinking skills, civic engagement, leadership and gives a sense of identity and legacy.

In her lecture, Jones focused on family and community history.

Whether it is a grandmother teaching her grandchildren to bake, the invention of modern conveniences to improve and simplify lives or a world war, how we think, feel and react to those events are part of our history as individuals, state, country and world.

Jones stressed she is a strong advocate for history being enthusiastically taught in our public schools.

She said that students who have a passion for studying history typically read one grade level higher than average and often excel in problem solving skills.

Jones is a native of upstate New York. She graduated from Cornell University, Ithaca, NY, with a bachelor of arts in history. She received her masters degree in library and information science from Drexel University in Philadelphia, PA.

Jones has worked for the Historical Society of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, the Ohio Historical Society in Columbus and currently works for the History Center in Frankfort where she is the director of Special Collections and Library.

The monthly business meeting was held following the programs.

Kaye McCauley read the minutes from the September meeting and Virgie Wells gave the treasurer’s report.

The Womans’s Club will meet again on Friday, Nov. 14. Jenny Lynn Hatter will be the featured speaker.

A facelift has been occurring in the Cynthiaiana

Water Department. Improvements at the plant, which started almost two years ago, have been made possible from two separate grants from the Department of Local Government. The grants totaled $1.5 million which will allow the plant to double its daily capacity. Part of the improvements include: new water tower to replace the old one on Standpipe Hill, two new lagoons and piping run from them, new high-service and low-service pumps and new equipment.

Wireworms in your potatoes

I have a decent harvest of potatoes this year, most of them are clean as a whistle; a few have a tinge of green (because a little sun shone down on them when they were curing on the veranda of the barn ... my fault); and best of all, none have the tiny holes left by the dreaded wireworm.

If you do have lots of tiny holes in your potatoes, you likely saw the tough little yellow or rust colored worms when you were digging your crop. Just in the last two weeks, four people have inquired about this pest asking, “What are the tiny holes in my potatoes and how do I prevent them?”

The wireworm is the larval stage of the adult click beetle. Both have names that adequately describe their most pronounced feature: The click beetle makes a clicking noise when disturbed and the wireworm is a hard-shelled slender worm that likes to eat potatoes.

Well, it may not be that they are actually eating our potatoes, scientists are not entirely sure if they are tunneling through our tubers looking for moisture or if they are looking for a little shelter.

The click beetle is benign and does no damage to crops, but the wireworm is a great nemesis to root crops because of its unusually long life cycle.

An infested garden can remain so for up to six years because the mature hard-shelled larvae can live two to six years in this stage before it develops into a beetle.

The beetle lays its eggs in pasture or sod areas. So, newly dug potato patches, where sod once was can be a problem. Since the wireworms can persist for many years, planting potatoes in the same plot can also be problematic.

Commercially, wireworms can be a problem because of decreased quality yields, but for the home gardener, the damage is almost more cosmetic.

Jeneen Wiche
Columnist

Early tunneling in seed potatoes can result in decreased yields because of reduced plant vigor or rot. Later, the tunneling means that mature potatoes will have a shorter shelf life and longer kitchen duty because you will have to do quite a bit of paring as you prepare the crop for dinner.

The best defense against wireworms is to diligently rotate your potato patch each year, avoiding a repeat planting for six years; in a perfect world, right?

This is not practical for most gardeners but do try to rotate as well as you can. The wireworm is difficult to control otherwise.

Chemical applications are limited and difficult because wireworms move through the soil efficiently and soil saturation would be hard to achieve. It would likely not persist through the growing season for continued protection for maturing tubers. Plus, who wants a chemical spill all over your potatoes?

Beyond crop rotation, there are other biological approaches to deterring wireworms.

Plant out larger fields of potatoes after alfalfa (or use this as a cover crop in smaller gardens).

There are some beneficial nematodes that can be applied to potato patches several months prior to planting (see www.garden-salve.com for nematodes).

You can also do some seasonal cultivation of the garden, turning the soil weekly in the spring and fall to expose worms to birds and other predators and in the winter to also expose larvae to the elements.

Proceeds from the sale of cornmeal, whole wheat flour, grits, apple butter and sorghum from Connorsville Mills and Co. at the recent Taste of Harrison County was presented to Southside Elementary Principal Steven Fowler, far right, for the Literacy Reading Program. Making the donation were: from left, Billy Kelly Jr. (co-owner), Trudy (Howard) Kelly, Madison Denniston (Southside student), and Johnathon William Denniston (HCMS student). Absent were Sue Kelly (co-owner), Johnathon Mathew Denniston and Debbie (Kelly) Denniston. Volleyball heads into last week of regular season with Fillies Fling

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Since Oct. 5, the Harrison County Fillies volleyball team has played matches with seven different opponents through Monday.

On Monday night, Bourbon County visited the Hilltop and went away with a straight set defeat at the hands of the Fillies.

The Fillies won the first set, 25-16, but trailed early in the second before tying at 19 points each. From there the Fillies pulled away to win 25-19.

The third set saw Harrison County run out to a big lead and coast in at 25-13.

The win leaves the Fillies at 18-12 for the season while Bourbon County falls to 4-21.

The Harrison County junior varsity lost 25-23 and 22-20 in two very close sets.

A split freshman squad also lost close sets to Bourbon County 21-14 and 21-18.

The other half of the freshman team was in Rowan County where they finished third in a tournament. The young Harrison County team with Coach J.P. Switzer defeated Greenup County and Ashland Paul Blazer while losing to Raceland.

The Fillies defeated Robertson County (16-10) three sets to none, 25-17, 25-21 and 25-12, and St. Patrick (1-17) also in three sets, 25-7, 25-15, and 25-17 earlier in the month.

They hosted the 13-team Fillies Fling on Saturday. Villa Madonna (19-5) was the overall winner taking all six of their matches.

The Blue Lightning defeated Ludlow (20-7) in straight sets to win the gold division. Williamstown won the silver division over Owen County 25-13 and 25-14.

Harrison County was undefeated in pool play as they rolled past East Jessamine (4-24) 21-19 and 21-11, Fleming County (2-22) 21-12 and 21-13 and Owen County (15-16) 12-21, 21-13 and 15-4.

The Fillies then faced Marion County (18-14) and lost badly, 25-7 and 25-11.

“Marion County had a tall front line and we just did not match up well with them,” said Coach Bill Faulkner. “The girls played hard all weekend but the 6-foot-3 girl was dominant.”

The Fillies travel to Bracken County Tuesday night to battle the 13-13 Lady Bears before wrapping up the regular season at home on Wednesday night with Grant County.

The 20-12 Lady Braves defeated the Fillies during the Glacier Invitational earlier in the season in straight sets. Wins in the two final games will give the Fillies a 20-win season in what was considered a rebuilding year with only two seniors.

The district tournament starts next Tuesday at Nicholas County with the Fillies matched up with the Lady Devils of Robertson County at 6 p.m.

JV football 5-0 with 41-6 win over Lewis Co.

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County junior varsity football team traveled to Vanceburg Monday evening and routed the Lewis County Lions, 41-6. The win gives the Breds a 5-0 record for the junior varsity season.

Justice Moore started the game off right with a return for a touchdown on the opening kick off.

Austin Jackson's extra point made it 7-0 and the Breds were on their way.

The next three possessions saw Nick Florence, Luke Slucher and Dalton Moore each score. With Jackson making two of the three point-after attempts the halftime score was 27-0 in favor of Harrison County.

Lewis County scored on the second half's opening possession to make the score 27-6 but Harrison County came right back with a matching touchdown.

This score was on a Ben VanHook pass to Slucher and the two-point conversion by Tyler Jackson made the score 35-6.

Tanner Mullins added a score in the fourth quarter to make the final 41-6 score.

The Harrison County junior varsity has a game scheduled Monday in Ingles Stadium with a yet-to-be-determined opponent.

Fillies beat Mason County in district opener, advance to Wednesday's finals

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

After last week's 3-0 loss to Franklin County at LeBus Field, Coach Kevin Gaunce was looking for a complete 80-minute effort from his Harrison County Fillies.

He got just that Monday in the opener of the 38th District tournament in Maysville.

A key stop on a penalty kick by goal keeper Chelsea Ingram propelled the Harrison County Fillies to a 3-1 win over Mason County Monday night as the Fillies advanced to the finals scheduled for Wednesday.

The Fillies started fast in this match as they scored in the first four minutes of the contest. Morgan Puckett took an excellent feed from Kelby Gaunce to make the score 1-nil.

The Fillies continued to control the ball for the majority of the half. With 25 minutes to play in the half, Kayla Ford boomed a free kick behind the defense and Amelia Bolin came out of nowhere to flick the ball out of the air for the score and a 2-nil lead.

Mason County rallied and used the long ball to their advantage as a long kick rolled in front of the box and a Lady Royal booted it in for a 2-1 game.

Then, with the half winding down, the Fillies were called for a hand ball in the box setting up a close penalty kick for Mason County.

“This could have been the turning point of the game,” observed Coach Gaunce.

However, the senior goal keeper made a tremendous save to send the teams to the halftime break with the 2-1 score.

Mason County played a more physical brand of soccer in the second half but the Fillies were able to match their toughness.

“That style of play sometimes puts us on our heels, but tonight the girls really responded well,” said Gaunce. “I was proud of how they handle the physical play.”

The Fillies put the final point on the board in the second half when freshman Jordan McDaniel sent a perfect cross to Puckett, who headed the ball into the net for the final 3-1 score.

The win gives the advancing Fillies a 10-6 record while Mason County closes the year with a nice 12-5 record.

Harrison County will play Pendleton County in the district finals on Wednesday. Pendleton soundly defeated St. Patrick 9-0 in the second match on Monday.

The Fillies will play Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in Maysville.

MIKE’S MINUTE

The world is full of mud

I was not unfortunate enough to have to serve in Vietnam so what I know about it comes from reading, watching television and talking to those who were there.

I understand that during the monsoon season, it was awfully muddy in Vietnam.

While not nearly as important, it was also awfully muddy in Cynthiana on Friday night.

The soldiers could really do nothing about the mud, neither could the football players on Friday night.

However, unlike the jungle, a football field does not have to turn to mud when it is rained on as the Athletic Complex Field has been the past few weeks. But the football field at Harrison County is not just a football field.

It is also a soccer field for the Fillies and the Thorobreds so it takes a lot of use. Soccer, unlike football, also plays the junior varsity matches on the Athletic Complex field giving the field double use on game days.

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

Counting the junior varsity matches there have been more than 25 matches played on the field during this season.

On the other hand, there have been four football games. So, while the complex is referred to my many, including me, as a football field, maybe we should not do so.

I have been told that a majority of the players, coaches and fans of soccer would rather have the soccer matches played at LeBus Field.

I also have been told that it is not up to them and they play where they are told to play, which is a good idea for them.

But, why do this to the field? I attended a couple of soccer matches where the lack of a grass surface played a role in the game and I know that it did in last Friday’s football game between the Breds and Holmes.

If you look at the middle of the field there is hardly any grass and with a little moisture, the surface becomes as slick as oil making the footing treacherous.

Harrison County had six points lost Friday night due to the slick surface, which is really regrettable since that made the difference between winning and losing.

The original plan was to play all sports in the complex when there was going to be an artificial surface.

After officiating football for 33 years, I can tell you that this is the only way that a field can stand up to the pounding that soccer and football gives to a field.

The Athletic Complex field will look like it does this year or worse each year until there is an artificial surface or the number of events held there is lessened. There is no getting around it.

Cross Country competes at St. Henry, hosts invitational next Thursday

The Harrison County cross country team ran in the St. Henry Invitational Saturday with HCMS runner Payton Doyle turning in the best performance. She finished 28th of the 104 runners in the middle school girls’ division. Megan Watts, Morgan Cooper, and Jaelyn Terhune also ran for the middle school girls’ team.

Thomas Morris led the middle school boys as he ran in 54th place in the 98-runner competition.

Franky Jacobs was 59th followed by Jacob Morris, Alec Davisson, Gannon Terhune, Larry Jones, Bradyn Lukins and Avery Whitaker. The middle school runners ran a distance of 3,200 meters.

Two Harrison County Fillies ran in the 5,000 meter race for high school runners. Abby Cooper was 129th and Tamara Lunsford 135th in the huge field of 147 runners.

Thursday, Oct. 23, the Harrison County harriers will host the Harrison County Invitational, which will be held at the Cynthiana Country Club. This long-time event is the main meet for the Harrison County runners and they expect a large field of high school and middle school runners.

The public is invited to attend and support the Harrison County cross country program. The event begins at 4:30 p.m.

Breds soccer finishes regular season with Senior Night at LeBus Field

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

The Harrison County Thorobreds soccer team wrapped up the regular season with a Senior Night match with Sayre played on LeBus Field.

The original Senior Night was planned for the Grant County game on Tuesday, but heavy rains and severe weather wiped that out.

The Breds were coming off a 6-3 win over St. Patrick in the last home performance in the Athletic Complex where they had improved their record to 5-8-1.

That match saw senior Austin Short score three goals with fellow seniors Logan Wiley, Devon Barton and Jared Bell adding one goal each.

This match saw the communication and ball handling reach the level that the coaches had been hoping for and the Breds starting to peak at the right time.

The final score could have been by a larger margin, but the coaching staff was working on specific situations to prepare for the upcoming district tournament.

On Senior Night, eight players and their parents were recognized between the junior varsity and varsity matches. Jared Bell, Devon Barton, Noah Mitchell, Andrew Norfleet, Derek Nunnelley, Austin Short, Logan Wiley and J.J. Willis were each introduced to the crowd before the match.

“It was a really nice ceremony for a great group of young men,” noted Coach Nick Hill.

Both teams struggled to connect passes and keep possession of the ball as the game got under way.

The Breds and Sayre had ample opportunity to score in the first half but neither capitalized and the first half ended scoreless.

After a “pep talk” at the half-time break, the Thorobreds played more inspired soccer. The improved play was not enough, however, as they gave up a goal with 10 minutes played in the period and another with 10 minutes still to play on a penalty kick to go down to defeat 2-0.

This finishes the regular season with Sayre wrapping up at 7-6 while the Thorobreds are 5-9-1.

The junior varsity soccer also finished the season at LeBus Field on Thursday with a 2-1 win over Sayre.

Duncan Wiley and Dillon Gasser scored the goals for the Breds.

Breds lose mud fest to Holmes 12-6 Friday

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The best description of Friday night's football game on the Hilltop was that of an undisciplined mud fest.

Covington Holmes and Harrison County combined for 21 penalties for 178 yards, which signifies a lack of discipline for both teams.

The Thorobreds tallied 102 yards in penalties, which was more than the evening's total Harrison County offense.

The penalties were such a big part of the game that the Thorobreds did not have an offensive series without at least one penalty until mid-third quarter and only had two series all night without an infraction.

Personal fouls were the largest contributor, which also included one player being dismissed from the game.

This also carries another game suspension with it so in effect it is a two-game penalty.

"We (the coaching staff) have warned the players time and again that the second person is often the one the official sees and not to retaliate," said Coach Jim Carr. "Some of our players just are not disciplined enough to hold back. It is a problem that we will continue to work on though a couple of hours a day may not be enough time to change a mind set."

The game started on an outstanding play for the Harrison County team as senior Jordan Kenney took the opening kick off 77 yards for a touchdown on the rain-slick field. Since the field did not promote kicking, the Thorobreds tried to run for the extra point but were stopped short, making the score 6-0.

Holmes moved the ball on their first possession but, as would be the case for both teams all night, a key holding penalty caused them to have to punt the ball back to the Breds after picking up one first down.

Harrison County took over on their own 35-yard line and Brandon Williams gained 25 yards to the 40-yard line of Holmes for a first down.

The next down Kellon Newby picked up five yards but a penalty brought the ball back. Three plays later, the ball went back to the Bulldogs on downs.

After one first down, the Bulldogs had to punt the ball back to the Breds, who took over on their own 27-yard line.

After an illegal procedure penalty took the ball back five yards, Newby carried the ball for no gain and fumbled with Holmes taking over on the Harrison County 22-yard line.

Three plays later DeSean Brumfield took the ball in from five yards out to tie the game.

The extra point failed for the Bulldogs and the game was tied and remained that way until halftime.

The second quarter saw six fumbles on the mud-covered field and only one first down per team along with the Harrison County ejection.

The third quarter saw the same lack of ball movement with each team making one first down in the period.

On the second Harrison County series of the period, the snap from center was wild and Holmes recovered on the Harrison County five-yard line.

On the next play, the Bulldogs' Andrew Arnold carried the ball into the end zone for a score and a 12-6 lead.

The only real scoring opportunity for Harrison County came in the fourth quarter when Kenney caught a pass from Mark Taylor and picked up 29 yards before slipping when he tried to make one more move on the muddy field.

A defensive holding penalty against Holmes put the ball on the 50-yard line but the Breds could not move any further and went down to the 12-6 defeat.

Andrew Arnold was the Bulldog who did the most damage for the night as he carried the ball 30 times for 148 yards on the ground. Passing was nearly non-existent as Holmes threw for 18 yards on two completions in four tries while Harrison County was successful two times on 10 throws for 14 yards with one interception.

The win improved Holmes' record to 2-5 while the Breds dropped to 0-8.

Harrison County will face Covington Catholic this Saturday at 1 p.m. in Covington. The Colonels are 3-4 for the season.

CYNTHIANA POLICE DEPARTMENT Case reports

Sept. 20 -- At 8:43 p.m., police arrested Amanda Coleman while following up on a harassment complaint. Police notified Coleman that she was not to trespass at 309 Broadway when she allegedly became combative. She was charged with alcohol intoxication in a public place, second degree disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and second degree assault of police officer.

Sept. 29 -- At 6:25 p.m., Brittany Whalen reported that she and some friends, all of whom are juveniles, were playing in the street in front of 137 N. Walnut St. when the resident there, William Faulkner, allegedly came onto the porch and pointed a handgun at them. Faulkner told police that the people who made the report were in front of his house and that they were leaning on his truck and cursing loudly. He told police he did walk onto his porch with a handgun but that it was never pointed at anyone.

Sept. 28 -- At 6:36 p.m., Erin Oakley, 139 Federal Drive, reported a suspicious vehicle in the area of West Keyhole Alley. Police noticed the door opened to Richard Hutchison's Plumbing Shop. Someone had forced entry into the shop and had taken $2,795 in power tools and tools from the building.

Sept. 30 -- At 4:25 p.m., Douglas Ingram, Penn Street, reported that he had misplaced his medical insurance card. He was advised to make a report with police.

Sept. 30 -- At 8:03 p.m., police were advised that Rhandi Courtney had allegedly made inappropriate comments to a juvenile boy. Police told Courtney to stay away from the juvenile and his mother.

Oct. 1 -- At 11:38 p.m., police were dispatched to Fast Max at 1114 U.S. 27 South where the clerk reported that he had been robbed by a masked man who entered the store carrying a handgun. The man took money from the cash register and fled the scene.

Oct. 1 -- At 4 p.m., Matthew Williams reported that he was bitten by a dog, owned by Daniel Martin, at 17 Delta Court. The dog was quarantined at the Animal Shelter.

Oct. 2 -- At 3:38 p.m., police were called by Molly Alcorn reported that she was told her cat was thrown into the road in front of a truck and that the cat was run over and killed. The suspects were listed as juveniles.

Oct. 2 -- At 11:56 p.m., a juvenile male reported to police that he was walking on Penn Street with a friend and that they stopped and lit a couple of firecrackers. He said that Michael Kolodziej came out of the house and put the juvenile in a headlock. Kolodziej told police that he had asked the kids to not light the firecrackers so that it would not wake up his wife. When the juvenile declined to comply with his request he put him in a headlock. The pair were advised to stay away from each other.

Oct. 3 -- At 6:56 p.m., Dylan Brown, 107 Elm St., reported that while he was walking down East Pleasant Street he lost his wallet, which contained a debit card, cash and documents.

Oct. 4 -- At 1:32 p.m., police were called to Louis Stout Way regarding a fight in progress. Frazier Clark told police he was approached by Blake Hatch at Shell Apple Mart and told to meet at the Louis Stout Way park. Clark said when he got there he was pulled from the vehicle and that the two fought until they heard police sirens and left the scene.

Oct. 4 -- At 4:02 a.m., police were called to Newsom Avenue for a fight in progress. James L. McFarland and Vernon Robinson were drunk and that they got into a fight and then they left. McFarland allegedly went back to Robinson's and started fighting again.

Oct. 4 -- At 11:50 a.m., Gary Mastin reported that his credit card and Geneva Smiley's debit card were used without their permission. Mastin said his credit card was used to charge $1,760 and Smiley's card was used to pay $300 toward the amount owed on the credit card.

Oct. 5 -- At 10:55 a.m., Ruth Gross reported that her dog, Wrinkles, was attacked by a Doberman, owned by Alfonso Custard, while Gross was walking her dog on Penn Street. Gross said she thought her dog was dead, but it must have just passed out. The Doberman is usually kept behind a fence and restrained on a cable. However, the cable had been broken and the Doberman must have jumped the fence.

Oct. 8 -- At 11:58 a.m., police were called to 244 Sycamore Drive for a domestic disturbance. Police arrested both parties, Larry and Juanita McRoberts, charging each with fourth degree assault, domestic violence, minor injury.

Oct. 4 -- At 8:53 p.m., police were dispatched to 203 Old Lair Road in reference to a stolen cell phone.

Oct. 6 -- At 5:20 p.m., police served a no trespass order to Owen L. Anderson for Biancke's Restaurant.

Oct. 7 -- At 1:37 a.m., police made contact with Misty McElfresh, who was sitting inside a vehicle at Apple Shell Market. McElfresh allegedly had possession of a needle containing a brown liquid that is believed to be heroin. McElfresh was arrested and charged with possession of controlled substance (heroin) and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Oct. 9 -- At 3 p.m., police were advised that a vacant home at 307 Old Lair Road, which is owned by Fifth Third Bank, was entered without permission and a hot water heater removed.

Oct. 9 -- At 11:37 a.m., Michelle Hill, manager for Angilo's Pizza, reported that a new employee sent her a text message part of the way through her shift and advised that she was being arrested by police on a warrant. Police found out that the new hire, Brittany Baldwin, was not arrested but that she had left Cynthiana with $165 of Angilo's money, two pizza warming bags and the delivery light. Total value of the stolen property is $515.

Oct. 9 -- At 12:46 p.m., Wanda Adams, Clifton

Village, reported that someone tried to get into her residence while she was away from home. It appeared that screens were lifted and a window air conditioner was moved and damaged in an attempt to get into her apartment. No entry was gained.

Oct. 9 -- At 1:12 p.m., Randy Northcutt reported that Richard Tolliver came into the Recycling Center with copper pipe cut in 18-20-inch pieces. When asked where the pipe had come from Tolliver reportedly said he was cashing it in for another subject. When Northcutt advised that he was reporting the pipe to the police, Tolliver left the center and the pipe behind.

Pursuant to a Judgment and Order of Sale entered by the Harrison Circuit Court on August 6, 2014 in Civil Action No. 14-CI-00105 styled Kentucky Housing Corporation, Plaintiff, vs. Stephanie G. Haley and University of Kentucky Federal Credit Union, Defendants, the Master Commissioner of the Harrison Circuit Court will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the Harrison County Justice Center, in Cynthiana, Kentucky, on Friday, October 17, 2014 at 10:00 a.m., the following described property:

151 Snow Road, Sadieville, Harrison County, Ky 40370
Being all of Parcel 2 and Tract A less Tract B, containing 5.55 acres, as shown on the Subdivision and Transfer/Consolidation Plat of Cummins/Perkins Properties of record in Plat Cabinet 4, Slide 179, in the Harrison County Clerk's Office.
Being the same property conveyed to Stephanie G. Haley, a single person, by deed dated May 15, 2008 and of record in Deed Book 303, Page 301, in the Harrison County Clerk's Office.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Kentucky Housing Corporation, in the amount of $107,615.30, plus interest at the rate of 6.125% per annum from December 1, 2013 until paid, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2013 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within sixty (60) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2014 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana for 2013 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendants.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

This conveyance is made subject to all restrictions, easements, legal highways and rights of way which may appear of record or be in existence and to all laws, ordinances, and regulations related to zoning, land use, subdivision, construction, safety, health, and environment.
Being the same property conveyed to Conrad B. Fritz, Jr. and Sandra K. Fritz, his wife, with right of survivorship, from Jerry Northcutt, single, by deed dated December 16, 2003 and recorded at Deed Book 271, Page 452; and from Jimmy Williams and Joanne Williams, husband and wife, and Lindsey Williams, single, by Quitclaim Deed dated September 24, 2008 and recorded at Book 305, Page 349 of the records of the Harrison County Clerk's Office. Sandra K. Fritz died on September 16, 2012.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Liberty Savings Bank, F.S.B. in the amount of $114,142.11 and interest in the amount of $11,614.43 through April 14, 2014, with interest thereafter at the rate of 5.0000% per annum until paid, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2013 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2014 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana or City of Berry, if applicable, for 2013 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendant.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

HARRISON COUNTY MARCHING THOROBREDS

Band to compete in regional Oct. 25

The Harrison County Marching Thorobreds perform at Bourbon County High School in the KMEA State Marching Band Regional Competition on Saturday, Oct. 25.

The band will perform at 7:30 p.m. and will need to be among the top eight overall scores to advance to the KMEA Semifinals on Nov. 1.

"Regardless of the outcome, we are proud of how our show has been received by the community," said band director John Merz. "We have been approached after each performance by veterans who have served in various aspects of the armed forces and each has thanked us for our performance and for using our art to pay tribute to their service and sacrifice. We are truly blessed to be able honor these men and women in this way."

The band last performed on a very chilly day at the Grant County Festival of Bands on Saturday, Oct. 4. In addition to winning first place in their class, the band claimed the awards for best music, best visual, and best overall effect in Class AAA.

The band also performed in the finals competition that evening, and earned a fifth place overall finish.

"We had two very solid performances," said Merz. "We had to deal with some weather conditions that we have not dealt with this year, and overall we handled it well. The cooler weather can really impact the intonation and sound of the band while the wind can cause problems for the color guard. We have a relatively young group of band members and they are really learning how to perform. It has been fun to watch them mature as performers. Their consistency is getting stronger every day."

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Pursuant to a Judgment and Order of Sale entered by the Harrison Circuit Court on July 16, 2014 in Civil Action No. 14-CI-00072 styled Kentucky Housing Corporation, Plaintiff, vs. Shawna L. Lenz, Unknown Spouse of Shawna L. Lenz, Harrison County, Kentucky, City of Cynthiana, Kentucky and The United States of America, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Defendants, the Master Commissioner of the Harrison Circuit Court will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the Harrison County Justice Center, in Cynthiana, Kentucky, on Friday, October 17, 2014 at 10:00 a.m., the following described property:

Property Address: 243 Wilson Avenue, Cynthiana, KY 41031

Parcel No. 1:

BEGINNING at a set P-K nail in the south edge of a sawed-off corner fence post and the north side of a ten (10.00) feet wide alley and being a corner with Lot 12 (now William Morris) and original corner of Lot 13, now comprising 180.00 feet of the 50.00 wide Lot 13 and 14.00 feet by 180.00 feet of the east side of Lot 14; THENCE S 78°11'15" W-64.00 feet along north side of an alley and side "B" to a set iron pin, corner to Tract No. 2; thence with east side of Tract 2 and side "C" N 11°48'45" E-20.00 feet to a set iron pin, a corner with Lot 13, Elmarch Addition (now Elizabeth Reno, DB 108 PG 429); thence with her line and side "D" S 78°11'15" E-64.00 feet to set an iron pin in fence, a corner with Lot 12 (now William Morris); thence with his line and fence side "A" S 11°48'45" W 20.00 feet to the beginning point, containing 1280 square feet or 0.0294 acres. There is an existing 12.00 feet passway across this tract to the existing alley. This description prepared from a physical survey conducted by Berlyn Brown, KY RLS 763 on October 24, 1988. See plat recorded in Plat Cabinet 2, Sheet 134B.

Parcel No. 2

Beginning at point on Wilson Avenue, corner to S. S. Moore; thence west with Wilson Avenue a distance of 64 feet to lot of Herman Kaufman; thence back between parallel lines a distance of 180 feet to lot of Herman Kaufman.

Being the same property conveyed to Shawna L. Lenz, a single person, by deed dated January 25, 2007, from John R. Reno and Martha Reno, husband and wife, of record in Deed Book 301, Page 583, in the Harrison County Clerk's Office.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Kentucky Housing Corporation, in the amount of $59,541.05, plus interest at the rate of 6.375% per annum from October 1, 2013 until paid, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2013 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2014 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana for 2013 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendants.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Pursuant to a Judgment and Order of Sale entered by the Harrison Circuit Court on August 6, 2014 in Civil Action No. 14-CI-00083 styled Fifth Third Mortgage Company, Plaintiff, vs. Matthew Gaunce, Defendant, the Master Commissioner of the Harrison Circuit Court will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the Harrison County Justice Center, in Cynthiana, Kentucky, on Friday, October 17, 2014 at 10:00 a.m., the following described property:

Parcel No.: 103-4003-033-00-000

The following described real property located in Harrison County, Kentucky:

Being all of Lot 3, Unit 1, Robynwood Heights Subdivision, Harrison County, Kentucky, as shown on plat thereof of record in Plat Cabinet 1, Sheet 43D, Harrison County Clerk's Office to which plat reference is hereby made for a more particular description of said property.

Being the same property conveyed to Matthew Gaunce, single, who acquired title by virtue of a deed from Mary Nichols f/k/a Mary Forsythe and Marshall Nichols, Jr., wife and husband, dated January 25, 2012, recorded February 1, 2012, at Deed Book 320, Page 78, Harrison County, Kentucky records.

Subject to all restrictions, conditions and covenants and to all legal highways and easements.

Commonly known as: 307 Old Lair Road, Cynthiana, KY 41031

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Fifth Third Mortgage Company, in the amount of $61,858.14, plus interest at the rate of 4.375% per annum from July 1, 2013 until paid, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2013 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2014 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana for 2013 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendant.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

WATER MAIN RELOCATION FOR KY36 AND TOWNSEND VALLEY ROAD
CONTRACT 1-2014
HARRISON COUNTY WATER ASSOCIATION

The Harrison County Water Association will receive sealed Bids for the Water Main Relocation for KY36 and Townsend Valley Road until 1:30 p.m., local time, November 4, 2014, at 2167 U.S. 27 South, Cynthiana, KY 41031 at which time the Bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The Work includes installation of approximately 1,317 linear feet of 4-inch polyvinyl chloride (PVC) pipe along KY36 over Mill Creek and approximately 850 linear feet of 4-inch PVC pipe along Townsend Valley Road over Townsend Creek to relocate existing 4-inch PVC water main and appurtenance thereto.

Bids are to be addressed to the Harrison County Water Association, 2167 U.S. 27 South, Cynthiana, KY 41031, and shall be marked "Sealed Bid-Water Main Relocation for KY36 and Townsend Valley Road-Contract 1-2014."

Complete digital Project Bidding Documents are available at www.strand.com or at www.questcdn.com. Download the digital Bidding Documents for $30 by inputting Quest project number 3553761 on the website's Project Search page. Please contact QuestCDN.com at (952) 2331632 or info@questcdn.com for assistance with free membership registration, downloading, and working with this digital project information.

Bidding Documents may be reviewed and paper copies may be obtained from the Issuing Office which is Strand Associates, Inc., 325 West Main Street, Suite 710, Louisville, KY 40202, (502) 5837020. A nonrefundable fee of $100 will be required (shipping and handling fees included). Overnight mailing of Bidding Documents will not be provided.

All Bidders submitting a sealed Bid shall obtain the Bidding Documents from QuestCDN.com or from Strand Associates, Inc.*

Bidders who submit a Bid must be a Plan Holder of record at the Issuing Office. Bids from Bidders who are not on the Plan Holders List may be returned as not being responsive.

Plan Holders are requested to provide an email address if they wish to receive addenda and other information electronically. Plan Holders are requested to designate whether they are a prime contractor, subcontractor, or supplier if they want this information posted on the project Plan Holders List.

The Bid must be accompanied by Bid security made payable to OWNER in an amount of 5% of the Bidder's maximum Bid price.

A wage rate determination is not a requirement of this project.

The Harrison County Water Association reserves the right to reject any or all Bids, to waive any technicality, and to accept any Bid which it deems advantageous. All Bids shall remain subject to acceptance for 85 days after the time set for receiving Bids.

Contract award shall be made based on the lowest responsive and responsible Bid.

This Bid is subject to Kentucky Revised Statutes Section 45A.490 through 45A.494, which in general provides that a "resident bidder" of Kentucky is to be given a bidding preference over a "nonresident bidder" who is registered in a state that gives preference to its instate resident bidders over a Kentucky resident bidder. The bidding preference is to be the same as that stipulated for the state of the "nonresident bidder". If the state of a "nonresident bidder" provides no specific preference then "resident" and "nonresident bidders" are to be treated the same when evaluating Bids.

All taxes are the responsibility of the successful Bidder unless specifically exempted in the Bidding Documents.

The Strand Associates, Inc.* project manager is Andrew Esarey, P.E. and can be contacted at Strand Associates, Inc., 325 West Main Street, Suite 710, Louisville, KY 40202, (502) 583-7020 regarding the project.

Daddy, save me from my shadow

“Daddy, Daddy,” were the words I heard seconds before I felt a tightening grip on my legs as my frightened 2-year-old son, David, wanted me to save him from his shadow.

This might not be a big deal to others, but it was a very real threat to him. He had run around the kitchen several times trying to lose his shadow but failed to do so.

Not knowing how to deal with it, he did the only thing that made sense, he cried out to his father for help.

In the weeks and months to come, his mother and I were not always successful explaining to him that there was nothing to fear from his shadow. This went on for a while and I started wondering if this was ever going to stop. This took place last year.

Patrick Whyte

CYNTHIANA BAPTIST CHURCH

This year our family spent a week of vacation time in Florida. On one of those days, while walking back from the beach, David (who is now 3 years old) mentioned that his shadow was moving with him.

I asked him if he was still afraid of his shadow, and without hesitation, he said, “No, I am not,” and kept on walking as if this had never been an issue for him.

That moment stayed with me as I recalled that just a year ago this same child was held captive by a real fear of his shadow.

Why is this relevant? Well, it is relevant simply because all of us can relate to being afraid of something.

Some of our fears are short-lived while others last a long time. Some fears may be considered trivial while others might be very serious.

The Bible makes it clear that God does not want us to live as captives of fear.

In Isaiah 41:10, God says, “Do not fear, for I am with you; Do not anxiously look about you, for I am your God. I will strengthen you, surely I will help you, Surely I will uphold you with My righteous right hand.”

Whenever you are fearful, God wants you to remember these promises: He is there (I am with you); He is responsible for you (I am your God); He will provide what you need (I will strengthen you; I will help you); He will support you (I will uphold you).

I am not sure David fully understood what Mommy and Daddy meant as we tried to teach him to trust God when he is afraid.

But as an adult, I can say that God’s promises have been my anchor when I have been overwhelmed with fear.

May we learn to hold on and cry out, “Daddy.”

need of kindness and forgiveness, which he offers freely, no strings attached.

“Does God discipline? Of course he does,” the pastor said. “He’s your Father, and he loves you so much that there can’t be a party unless you’re there. It’s the reason he disciplines. It’s the party, dummy!”

“Therefore, lift your drooping hands and strengthen your weak knees,” the writer of Hebrews says.

We’ve got a party to go to.

between your sin and bad things happening, we’d all be dead.”

But that’s what some people think.

He said the Greek word for discipline does not mean punishment, but “instruction and restraint.” Sometimes it involves pain, but it’s not punishment. Jesus took our deserved punishment at the Cross.

So, God doesn’t punish us, and he’s not poised to pounce on us when we stray. He doesn’t play gotcha, takes no delight in our suffering, even if it’s the result of our own actions. He uses our pain to get our attention and then he shows us mercy and grace.

For God, the pastor said, it’s all about the party he’s throwing for us.

It’s about freedom and laughter and being secure in his love. It’s about knowing you’re forgiven everything — past, present and future.

It’s about being given someone else’s righteousness and not being required to pay it back or even pay it forward, although sometimes you do because you overwhelmingly want to.

It’s about God gathering party guests, calling his children home, even running to greet them with open arms as they stumble toward him, often broken and battered, in desperate

You know what really irks me? When people at work don’t turn off the bathroom light when they’re done.

Our company is trying to reduce expenses and one of the easiest things to do is Turn. Off. The. Light!

I don’t know if it’s a problem with the men’s bathroom, although I’m guessing it is. So, men: Turn. Off. The. Light. Too!

There, I said it, and that sure felt good.

That irks me, but what really irks me is how well-meaning religious people misrepresent God and what it means to be a Christian. I think about this a lot, mainly because I have a number of people I pray for regularly to find faith in Christ. However, from comments some of them make, I think they think that being a Christian means you have to become weird, live a life of guilt and frustration trying to follow a bunch of rules and never really feel comfortable in your own skin.

Also, they seem to think that God loves sinners and welcomes them as his own through faith in Jesus, which is true, but that once you’re in the family his love turns conditional. “You may be saved by grace, but once that happens you need to toe the line, mind your p’s and q’s, work hard to justify your gift of salvation,” they believe.

They’ve heard things like, “Yes, God’s grace is amazing, but don’t take advantage of it” and “Jesus died for you, now what are you willing to do for him?”

Some Christians (and most non Christians) believe that church is a place you go to feel bad about yourself so you’ll be prodded to go out and be better.

Guilt is a great motivator, except it doesn’t last. Or if it does, it just makes you insecure, neurotic and depressed. So, you fake it, which just makes being a Christian look like a miserable existence — and who would want that?

Not the people I’m praying for, and that irks me.

Recently, I heard a pastor talk about this very thing. He was cranky too about the way some Christians misuse the scriptures to keep people in line, in particular the scripture about how God disciplines all he considers to be his children (Hebrews 12:3-13).

He said some interpret that to mean if you mess up, God will send bad things your way — your business will fail, your dog will eat your favorite shoes, you’ll get an ugly rash on your face.

He said, “I can’t tell you how many times I’ve been with Christians going through hard times who inevitably ask, ‘What did I do wrong?’”

It doesn’t help that well-meaning people come along and say, “You must have sin in your life or this wouldn’t be happening to you.”

He said, “If there was a direct correlation

Third Annual Blessing Ball

Hosted by Leesburg Christian Church

Residents of Parkside Manor and Shadylawn Personal Care Homes made the 10-mile journey to Leesburg Church for the third annual Blessing Ball. Participants included guests from Harrison and Scott County Adult Day, members of the Cynthiana and surrounding communities, and for the first time this year—guests from the Pendleton County Adult Day.

A record total of 107 guests were invited to enjoy an evening of formal wear, dining, dancing and entertainment. Each guest was escorted by a volunteer. And a host of others helped prepare and serve the meal, entertain, and provide assistance throughout the evening.

Leesburg Christian Church (LCC) hosted the event as an outreach ministry to the two personal care facilities in Cynthiana and others in the surrounding area.

This was the first year the Blessing Ball was held at the site of the church. Residents from both Shadylawn and Parkside Manor are bussed to LCC each Saturday night. This ministry has proved successful and so the idea for the Ball held at the church was conceived.

Participants met their escorts and had their portraits taken and printed as a keepsake. Guests ate in two shifts. While the first group was eating the second group had their portraits made, watched a magic show and enjoyed listening and dancing to music.

The Cynthiana Elks Club generously donated the soft drinks for all guests. Harrison County Judge Executive Alex Barnett, his wife Michelle, and Dr. Brian Mulberry provided and prepared pork barbecue for the dinner's entrée.

LCC's worship band, Far From West, along with guest vocalist Rick Mathers provided the live music. Roger Despard treated guests to a magic show throughout the evening. A store was created in one of the children's church classrooms where guests browsed and received gifts provided by the church and donations from the community including Ken's New Market and McDonalds.

Prior to the Ball, members of the church solicited donations of formalwear from the community. Several formal gowns, suits, shoes, and accessories were generously donated. Guests chose their outfits weeks before the Ball, and volunteers from the church went to each location and assisted with hair and makeup hours before the big night.

LCC's Blessing Ball team will meet again in the coming weeks to begin planning the 2015 event.

Leesburg Christian Church is located at 6005 Ky. Hwy. 1842 N. Services are held Saturday nights at 6:05 p.m. and Sunday mornings at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sammy Harris is the lead minister.

Registered nursing pre-admission begins next week at the Licking Valley Campus of MCTC

The Licking Valley Campus of Maysville Community and Technical College announces the pre-admission conference dates for students beginning the registered nursing program for the fall 2015.

They are Oct. 22 from 2 to 3 p.m., Nov. 4 from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., Nov. 26 from 2 to 3 p.m., Jan. 21 from 2 to 3 p.m., Feb. 6 from 2 to 3 p.m., and Feb. 25 from 2 to 3 p.m.

"The pre-conference is part of the application process. It is mandatory to attend one pre admission conference so that students may receive information regarding the nursing program," said Alison Hendricks, associate professor of Nursing Health Science Division, said.

The registered nursing program trains students to provide and manage patient care and to become valuable members within the discipline of nursing.

Graduates earn an associate degree in nursing and are eligible to take the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN).

In order to be accepted into the associate degree RN program, students are required to apply for admission to the college, provide high school transcripts verifying graduation or official passing GED scores, provide COMPASS or ACT scores, provide Healthcare Provider Level CPR certification that must be kept current during program.

Students must also provide proof of active status on the Kentucky Nurse Aide Registry, LPN school transcripts (if applicable).

Students must show successful completion of program pre-requisites with a "C" or higher and attend one pre-admission conference per admission cycle.

Finally, students must provide official scores from the National League for Nursing Pre-RN admission exam, and documentation of computer literacy as defined by KCTCS.

After acceptance to the program, associate degree nursing students will spend four semesters completing the core curriculum.

"Graduates from the Registered Nursing program have a wide variety of job opportunities," said K. Bruce Florence, LVC campus director. "Some of these opportunities include working in hospitals, long-term care facilities, clinics, child care centers, educational facilities, and physician's offices."
